Terms of service

Effective 28 September 2026

Clip is a personal tool run by one person (the "owner") for their own channels. It is not a public service, and no one else can sign in to it.

YouTube

Clip uses YouTube API Services. Anyone using Clip agrees to be bound by the YouTube Terms of Service. Google's handling of data is described in the Google Privacy Policy.

Content

Clip is used only with footage the owner has the right to use: their own recordings, footage from creators who have given permission, or openly licensed works, with credit given where the licence requires it. Clips are cut on whole sentences and are not edited to change what a speaker meant. Every clip is approved by the owner before it is posted.

A rights holder who believes a clip uses their work without permission can ask for it to be removed through the contact below. The clip will be taken down.

No warranty

Clip is provided as is, without warranty of any kind, and the owner is not liable for any loss arising from its use.
